

Colquett Law is a law practice in Birmingham, Alabama, founded in 2014 by Ted Colquett and limits its practice to insurance claim and coverage litigation for policyholders, first and third party policy claimants, agents and brokers, and civil litigation plaintiffs.

ABOUT TED COLQUETT

Ted Colquett is a member of The National Trial Lawyers Top 100 and past member of IADC, DRI, and ADLA. He has tried more than 125 cases to juries, winning more than 85 percent.

After graduating from law school, Ted clerked for Justice Richard L. Jones of the Alabama Supreme Court, leading to his appointment as Staff Attorney to Justice Oscar W. Adams, a civil rights pioneer and the first African-American elected to statewide office in Alabama.

Ted lives in Birmingham, Alabama, where his wife, Jeannie, is Executive Director of The Bell Center for Early Intervention Programs. He is also a certified yoga instructor and studying to become an ordained Episcopal Deacon.
